Riverina jobseekers invited to connect with employers at local expo

For Immediate Release

3 April 2024

A new expo is set to connect local jobseekers with a range of employers and career opportunities next month. The Country Change Expo will be held in Wagga Wagga on Saturday 20 April.

The event is run by Regional Development Australia-Riverina (RDA-Riverina) and invites Riverina and Murray locals to come along and see what their own backyard has to offer.

RDA-Riverina's CEO and Director of Regional Development, Rachel Whiting, said the expo is the perfect place to make connections with employers and local organisations for those considering a career change or seeking new opportunities.

"We know employment opportunities are top of mind for both relocators and locals," Ms Whiting said. "Here in the Riverina and Murray regions, there are all kinds of industries from government and defence to agriculture, manufacturing, tourism and other professional and social services.

That's why we've partnered with Workforce Australia's local jobs program to deliver an event that provides opportunities for everyone to consider their career prospects in our region. "Our digital platform Jobs Riverina Murray is always showcasing a range of job vacancies, right now that includes teachers, doctors, mechanics, and management opportunities from logistics to pubs. The Country Change Expo will offer another layer, bringing everyone together in person," she continued.

"There'll be employment agencies and local organisations in attendance to share more about opportunities across the region. We encourage locals to take advantage of the event to make new connections."

The expo is part of the Riverina Discovery Weekend, encouraging city dwellers to spend a few days in the region and consider a move.

The Country Change Expo is a free event and runs from 10am to 3pm on Saturday 20 April at the Transgrid Discovery Hub, 27 Kincaid Street, Wagga Wagga.

Local organisations and businesses are also invited to showcase their services as an exhibitor. Find out more at rdariverina.org.au.
